

INDEX

TO VOLUME I.

JANUARY—APRIL, 1833.

*.* The numbers with an obelisk [†] affixed, refer to pages in the second part of the volume.

A.

Abrantes, Duchess of, her Memoirs, noticed, 170 † et seq.—defects of her style, 171 † et seq.—interest of her work, 171 †—her character of Napoleon compared with that given by Bourrienne, 173 †—Bonaparte's regard towards, 174 †.

Adenès, or Adams, Author of the Romance of "Bertha of the great feet," 147—of Cléomadès, 148—his history, reputation, and works, 148 et seq.

Adventures, The, of a Younger Son, by Trelawney, noticed, 36 †—extracts from, 38 † et seq.

Aga, Mohamed, description of, 151 † et seq.

Aix, Bishop of, anecdote of, 59.

Albatross, description of, 22 †.

Anastasy, M. de, his collection of Egyptian antiquities, 199 † et seq.

Annals and Antiquities of Rajast'han, by Lieutenant Colonel James Tod, notice of, 97 † et seq.—extracts from, 101 †, 104 † et seq. 110 † et seq.—its value as an authentic history, 103 †—general estimate of, 116 † et seq.

Annals of Cashmir, their authenticity and value, 100 †.

Antiquities, Museum of, at Leyden, 199 † et seq.—Etruscan, 200 †.

Antony, St., panegyric of, 181 et seq.

Arthur, King, his glory recorded in the Romances of the Round Table, 130.

VOL. I.—NO. II.

Assembly, National, its history, 70, 72, 74 et seq.—Mirabeau's appearance in, 56 et seq.

Atkinson, James, his Translation of Shâh Nâmeh, noticed, 155 † et seq.—his qualifications for the work, 156 †—his opinion of the original poem, 156 †—medal awarded to him for his translation, 169 †.

B.

Babbage, Charles, Esq., his work on the Economy of Machinery and Manufactures, noticed, 62 †—importance of his economical principles, respecting manufactures, 67 et seq.—account of his Calculating Machine, 69 † note.

Baird, Sir David, The Life of, noticed, 134 †.

Barante, M. de, his character of Diderot, 221—encomium on, 224.

Barbieri, Giuseppe, Oration by, reviewed, 161—his style of preaching described, 185 et seq.—his popularity, 188 et seq.—extract from one of his discourses, 189 et seq.

Baxter, Richard, his opinion of Hampden, 3.

Begum, Sumroo, anecdotes of, 60 † et seq.

Bell and Lancaster, remarks on their systems, by Sir W. Scott, 145 †.

Belknap, Dr., his conjecture that Hampden visited America, 46, note.

Bentham, Jeremy, Dumont's admira-

- tion of his writings, 48 — notice of, 82† — list of his published works, 84†.
- Bertha* of the great feet, the Romance of, by Adenès, published by M. Paris, 125 — statues of, described, 126 et seq. — her descent and history, 126 et seq.
- Bindi*, Sergardi, his Spiritual Exercises reviewed, 161.
- Bonaparte*, Napoleon, his character as drawn by the Duchess of Abrantes and by Bourrienne, compared, 173† — his regard for Mad. Permon, 173†, 177† — for Mad. Junot, 174† — anecdotes of, 174† et seq.
- Brewster*, Sir David, his Letters on Natural Magic, noticed, 14† — his statement of a curious experiment, 15† — his description of an ingenious piece of mechanism, 16† — his observations on mechanical inventions, 16† et seq.
- Burke*, effects of his work on the French revolution, 71 — Chateaubriand compared to him, 226 et seq.
- Butler*, Charles, biographical notice of, 181† et seq. — enumeration of his various publications, 181† et seq. — those vindicating Catholic opinions, 182† et seq. — his studious habits, 185†.
- C.
- Carenport*, description of its situation, 294 — inhabitants, 294 — houses and their furniture, 295 et seq. — gardens, 296 — of the race course, 296 et seq. — public religious services, 298 — theatre and other amusements, 298 et seq. — 301 et seq. — of a winter encampment near it, 300 et seq. — of its races, 302 — want of books there, 302 et seq. — its climate, 303 — shops, market, &c. 303 — environs, 304.
- Chalmers*, Dr. T., his work on Political Economy, reviewed, 96 — his qualifications for the work, 97 — his synopsis of the principles of political economy, 97 et seq. — 105, 107 et seq. — his doctrines respecting rent, 97 et seq. — rate of wages, 98 et seq. — relation between population and agricultural produce, 100 et seq. — his theory of population, 101 et seq. — ridiculed, 101 et seq. — his principles relative to capital, 105 — to British commerce, 105 et seq. — author of An Enquiry into the Extent and Stability of National Resources, 106 — his opinions respecting tithes, 107 — poor laws, 108 et seq. — fallacies and defects in his system, 109 et seq. — his opinions on religious establishments, 110 et seq. — author of an article in the Edinburgh Review, on pauperism 117, note — strictures on the article 117, note.
- Champion*, extract from his Translation of Firdausi, 165† note.
- Champollion*, remarks on the supposed discoveries of, 126† — Critical Examination of his Labors on Egyptian Hieroglyphics, noticed, 127† et seq. — the incorrectness of his interpretations proved by M. Klaproth, 127† et seq.
- Characteristics of Women*, by Mrs. Jameson, remarks on, 193†.
- Charlemagne*, the son of Bertha of the great feet, 127 — glory of France under, 133 et seq. — remarks on the Chronicle of the Life and Exploits of, 141 et seq.
- Charles I.*, his character, 11 — his contests with the Commons, 12 — his oppressive acts, 17 — levies ship-money, 20, 25 — marches against the Scots, 23, 26 — his reverses, 26 — impeaches Hampden, Pym, and others, of high treason, 34 — his violent proceedings against the leaders of the opposition, 34 — openly defied by the Commons, 37 — flies from his palace, 37 — his adherents, 41.
- Chartres*, Bishop of, his character, 61 — anecdotes of 61, note.
- Chateaubriand*, Viscount de, his Complete Works, reviewed, 225 — sketch of his life and character, 225 et seq. — parallel between him and Burke, 226 et seq. — between him and Southey, 227 — character of his Essay upon Revolutions, 227 et seq. — remarks on his Genius of Christianity, 229 et seq. — weakness of his reasonings, 231 et seq. — strictures on his character as a critic, 235 et seq. — his opinion of Shakspeare, 235 et seq. — remarks on his novels, 237 et seq. — particularly Natchez, with the author's account of it, 238 et seq. — on his Martyrs, 242 et seq. — his description of Jerusalem, 244 — of a night scene in America, 244 et seq. — beauties of his style, 245 et seq. — political principles maintained by, 247 — notice of his Memoirs of the Duc de Berri, 247.

- Cheetore*, an account of the sack of, 104† et seq.
- Chesterfield*, Lord, anecdote of, 212 et seq.
- Chénv*, M. de, notice of, 191† et seq.
- Chinese Drama*, The History of the Circle of Chalk, noticed, 178† et seq.
- Cholera*, not believed contagious by the Mussulmans of India, 61† et seq.
- Chronicle* (of St. Denis) of Turpin, remarks upon, and analysis of, 141 et seq. — probable authorship of, 142.
- Chund*, account of his poems, 101† et seq.
- Clarendon*, his opinion of Hampden, quoted, 4, 14, 15, 21, 27, 28, 30, 42.
- Clarke*, Adam, Rev. Dr., notice of, 94† et seq.
- Comines*, his opinions of the English government, 6.
- Cromwell*, Oliver, embarks for America, and is prohibited from sailing, 22.
- Customs* of the Moosulmans of India, by Jaffur Shurreef, notice of, 147† et seq.
- Cuvier*, Baron, notice of, 88† et seq.
- D.
- Daumer*, Von C. F., his Sketch of a System of Speculative Philosophy, noticed, 169† et seq.
- Diderot*, Denis, remarks on, 192 — Memoirs, Correspondence, and unpublished Works of, reviewed, 192 — sketch of his life, 196 — 217 — attempt of the Jesuits to secure him, 196 et seq. — of the Carmelites, 199 — his marriage, 200 — character of his wife, 201 et seq. — edits the Encyclopédie, 201 et seq. — attempts dramatic writing, 204 — his connexion and correspondence with Mad'le Voland, 207 et seq. — sketch of some of his associates, 209 et seq. — his various compositions, 217 — his anticipations of posthumous fame, 218 et seq. — character of his writings, 220 et seq. — parallel between Diderot and Johnson, 221 et seq.
- Douce*, Francis, Esq., Letter to him from Walter Scott, 143†.
- Dumont*, his Recollections of Mirabeau, reviewed, 47 — account of his character and history, 48 et seq. 95 — his intimacy with Jeremy Bentham, 48 — with Mirabeau, 48 — his authorship of pieces, appropriated by Mirabeau, 62, 67, 69 et seq. — editor of a Journal jointly with Mirabeau and Duroverai, 68 et seq. — character of his journal, 69 — his thoughts on the Declaration of the Rights of Man, 71 and note — his esteem for Mirabeau diminished, 81 — his opinion of the causes of the revolution, 93 — of the character of Louis the Sixteenth, 93 et seq. — his Recollections of Mirabeau recommended, 95.
- Duroverai*, anecdote of, 58.
- E.
- Earle*, Augustus, his Narrative of a Nine Months' Residence in New Zealand, with a Journal of a Residence in Tristan d'Acunha, reviewed, 17† — his various travels, 17† — extracts from his Journal at Tristan d'Acunha, 21† et seq. — his voyage to New Zealand, 26†.
- East India Company*, injustice and dishonorable conduct of, 134 et seq.
- Egypt*, Antiquities of, 199† et seq.
- Egyptian Hieroglyphics*, notice of Klaproth's Examination of Champollion's Labors on, 127† et seq. — difficulty of interpreting, 127† et seq.
- Elizabeth*, Queen, her policy, 8.
- Elliot*, Sir John, his imprisonment, 14 — his correspondence with Hampden, 14 et seq. — his treatise on government, 16 — his death, 17.
- Eloquence* of the Pulpit in Italy, 162 et seq. — in Rome, 176 et seq.
- Encyclopédie*, French, history of its commencement, 201 et seq. 204.
- English Martyrs*, The, a Poem, by Mrs. Hemans, 152.
- English publications*, new, list of, 193† et seq.
- Essay* upon Ancient and Modern Revolutions, by Chateaubriand, remarks on, 227 et seq.
- Essex*, Earl of, his military character, 43.
- Etruscan vases*, account of, 200†.
- F.
- Fair* of May Fair, The, by Mrs. Gore, notices of, 118† et seq. — extracts from, 118†, 120† et seq.
- Falk*, John, his posthumous work on Goethe, notice of, 262 et seq. — extracts from, 263 et seq.
- Faust*, Goethe's, character and moral tendency of, 253 et seq.
- Firdausi*, notice of a translation of his poem, Shâh Nâmeh, 155† et seq. — character of his poetry, 156† et seq. — sketch of his life, 157† et seq.
- Fornici*, Giovanni, Eulogies and Moral Discourses by, reviewed, 161.

France, history of the revolution in, 55, 62, 63, 64, 66, 70, 80 — Dumont's opinion of the causes of the revolution in, 95 — state of society in, during the eighteenth century, 223 et seq.

Froissart, his opinion of the English, 5.

G.

Ganges, sources of the, 10† et seq. — the resort of devotees and fanatics, 12† et seq.

Gans, M., extracts from an article by, in the Prussian State Gazette, on Hegel, 47† et seq.

Garrick, anecdote of, 216.

Genius of Christianity, Chateaubriand's, beauties and defects of, noticed, 229 et seq.

Gilly, William Stephen, his Memoir of Felix Neff, noticed, 29†.

Goethe, recent publications concerning, article on, 250 et seq. — extracts from an article in the New Monthly Magazine on the character and writings of Goethe, 250 et seq. — moral influence of his writings, 253 — of Faust, 253 et seq. — of William Meister's Apprenticeship, 254 — extracts from an article in the Foreign Quarterly Review on Goethe, 255 et seq. — remarks on his writings regarded as works of taste, 262 — notice of a posthumous work of John Falk on Goethe, 262 et seq. — his apparent indifference to politics, 263 et seq., 285 — his criticism on German critics, 264 et seq. — anecdote of, 266 et seq. — his thoughts on the immortality of the soul, 269 et seq. — eulogy of, by Schelling, 275 — by Von Müller, 276 et seq. — his combined love of nature and of practical life, 277 et seq. — his pursuit of the natural sciences, 278, 281 et seq. — notice of his Theory of Colors, 281 — his friendship with Schiller, and William and Alexander Humboldt, 282 — his instructions to actors, 283 — his active efforts for the improvement of Jena and Weimar, 284 — his industry and love of order, 286 — his visits from the Grand Duchesses Louisa and Maria, 289 — his correspondence and intimacy with Zelter, 290 — pursuits and occupations of his latest days, 291 — reflections on visiting Weimar after his death, 292 — visit to his house, &c., 292 et seq.

Gore, Mrs., notices of her Fair of May

Fair, 118† et seq. — her characteristics as a novelist, 119†.

Government, English, the history of, 5 et seq. — Comines' opinion of, 6.

H.

Hajji Baba, excellence of, 150† et seq.

Hampden, John, Memorials of, by Lord Nugent, reviewed, 1 — his portrait, 1 — his private character, 2 et seq. — opinions of his contemporaries respecting him, 3 — Baxter's opinion of, 3 — his descent, 3 et seq. — his early history and education, 4 — notice of, by Clarendon, 4, 14, 15, 21, 27, 28, 30 — he joins the opposition, 5 — arrested for refusing to contribute to the forced loan, 12 — released, 13 — retires from public life, 14 — his correspondence with Sir John Elliot, 14 et seq. — his criticisms on Sir John Elliot's Treatise on Government, 16 — remarks on his literary character, 16 — parallel between Strafford and, 19 — he refuses to pay ship-money, 20 — embarks for America, but is prohibited sailing by an order of council, 22 — character of his eloquence, 27 — sent to Scotland, 30 — impeached of high treason, 34 — escorted to the House of Commons by citizens of London, 37 — supported by freeholders of Buckinghamshire, 38 — his ardent exertions in the cause of liberty, 41 et seq. — his military skill, 42, 43 — his encounter with Prince Rupert, 44 — his death, 45 — supposed by Belknap to have visited America, 46, note.

Heber, Bishop, his testimony to the estimation in which Colonel Tod was held in India, 99†.

Hegel, Hints for a Criticism on, noticed, 47† — biographical notice of, 47† et seq. — remarks on his philosophical system, 47† et seq. — his system contrasted with that of Krause, 49† et seq.

Helvetius, his life at his country-seat, 211 et seq.

Hemans, Mrs., her poems, "The English Martyrs;" and "Let her depart," 152 et seq.

Henry III., of France, the patron of Adenès, 148.

Herklots, G. A., his translation of Shurreef's Qanoon-e-Islam, noticed, 147† et seq.

Hieroglyphics, Egyptian, difficulties of decyphering and interpreting, 127† et seq.

Himalaya Mountains, route to the, described 7† et seq. — natives of, 8†.
Hoer-Lan-Ki, or the History of the Circle of Chalk, notice of a translation of, 178† et seq. — sketch of the story, 179† et seq.
Holbach, Baron d', sketch of society at his house, 208 et seq. — his visit to England, and opinions of the country, &c., 215 et seq. — his visit to Garrick, 216.
Hope, Mr. Thomas, his admiration and encouragement of Thorvaldsen's genius, 4†.
House of Commons, debates in, on the expediency of a provision for the poor of Ireland, 109
Humboldt, William and Alexander, their intimacy with Goethe and Schiller, 282.
Hyder Ali, his contests with the East India Company, 135†.
Hydrostatic bed, for invalids, described, 95† et seq.

I.

Immortality of the soul, lame arguments of Chateaubriand in proof of, 231 et seq. — Goethe's thoughts on the, 269 et seq. — Wieland's notions respecting it, 274† et seq.
India, Excursions in, by Captain Thomas Skinner, notice of, 7† — Observations of the Mussulmans of, by Mrs. Meer Hassan Ali, noticed, 50† — Journal of a Tour in, by Captain Mundy, noticed, 50† — extracts from it, 57† et seq. — increased means of an acquaintance with, 97† et seq. — character of native annals of, 99† et seq., 102† — the school of poetry, 130† — dishonorable conduct of the "Company" in, 134† et seq. — Sir David Baird's services in, 135† et seq. — Customs of the Moosulmans of, noticed, 147† et seq. — interesting works respecting 147† et seq.
Ingles, H. D., his New Gil Blas, noticed, 154†.
Intelligence, literary, 192† et seq.
Ireland, Strafford's administration in, 19 et seq. — rebellion in, 31. — debates in the House of Commons, on the expediency of a provision for the poor of, 109 — statements respecting agriculture in, 118.
Italy, pulpit eloquence and state of religion in, article on, 161 et seq. — notice of preachers in, 162 et seq. — present state of religious and moral sentiment in, 172 et seq.

J.

James I, his character and reign, 8 et seq. — compared to Claudius, 9.
Jameson, Mrs., her Characteristics of Women, noticed, 193†.
Jerusalem, Chateaubriand's description of, 244.
Jesuits, their endeavours to ensnare Diderot, 196.
Johnson, Samuel, parallel between him and Diderot, 221 et seq.
Jones, Sir William, his opinions of Firdausi, 155† et seq. — his Translation of the Laws of Menu, remarks on, 196† et seq.
Julien, Stanislas, his Translation of the Circle of Chalk, from the Chinese, noticed, 178† et seq. — his study of the language of Chinese poetry, 179† — merits of his translation, 180†.
Jumna, sources of the, 9† et seq.

K.

Klaproth, M. J., his Examination of Champollion's Labors on Hieroglyphics, noticed, 127† et seq. — his qualifications for the work, 127† — he proves the incorrectness of Champollion's interpretations, 127† et seq.
Krause, M. Frederic, his principal works, 47† — remarks on his system of philosophy, 49† et seq.

L.

Lafayette and the Revolution of 1830, noticed, 192† — notices of, noticed, 192†.
Lamourette, Abbé, anecdote of, 82, note.
Lancaster and Bell, Scott's remarks on their systems, 145†.
Laud, Archbishop, description of, 17 et seq. — impeached and imprisoned, 28.
Legitimacy, arguments for, 248 et seq.
Leopold I, notice of, 174.
Lestie, Sir John, biographical notice of, 189† et seq.
Leyden, museum of antiquities at, 199† et seq.
Lithographic printing, useful application of, 65†
London, civil and military organization of, 35 et seq. — devotion of its citizens to the cause of liberty, 36 — citizens of, escort impeached members to Westminster, 37.
Louis XVI., Dumont's opinion of his character, 95.

M.

- Machinery and Manufactures, a work on the Economy of, by Charles Babage, Esq., noticed, 62† — illustrations of the benefits derived from, 63† et seq.
- Mackintosh, Sir James, notice of, 78† et seq.
- Malcolm, Sir John, his Imitation of the Persian, a poem, 160.
- Malthus, his theory of population adopted by Chalmers, 103 — refuted, 103, et seq.
- Manufacture of veils by caterpillars, 67†.
- Martineau, Harriet, her Illustrations of Political Economy, reviewed, 96.
- Martyrs, The, by Chateaubriand, notice of, 242 et seq.
- Meer Hadjee Shah, some events of his life, 52† et seq.
- Meer Hassan Ali, Mrs., her Observations on the Mussulmans of India, noticed, 50†, 148†.
- Memoirs, Correspondence and Unpublished Works of Diderot, reviewed, 192 — character of the work, 195, 224 — extracts from, 198, 203, 206 et seq., 216 et seq.
- Memoirs of the Duchess of Abrantes, notice of, 170† et seq. — extracts from, 179† et seq.
- Menu, Laws of, notice of an edition of, in Sanscrit, Bengalee, and English, 196† et seq. — remarks on Sir W. Jones's Translation of, 196† et seq.
- Michel, M. Francesque, notice of his Critical Examination of M. Paris's edition of "Bertha of the great feet," Notes, and Letter to M. Monmerqué.
- Middle Ages, the, on the romances of, 128 et seq. — sources whence the Troubadours of, derived their inspiration, 129 et seq. — various opinions of the literature of, in France, 132 et seq. — superior refinement of the French, during the, 133 et seq. — the productions of, now an object of interest, 136, 146 — remarks on the literature of, 178†.
- Mirabeau, Recollections of, by M. Dumont, reviewed, 47 — his character, 49 et seq., 83 et seq., 89 et seq. — his colloquial powers, 51 — his reputation as an author, 52 — his personal appearance, 56 — appearance in the National Assembly, 57 et seq., 62 et seq. — his use of Dumont's writings, 62, 67 — his celebrated address to the king for the dismissal of the - troops (composed by Dumont), 67 et seq. — journal conducted by, jointly with Dumont and Duroverai, 68 et seq. — his speech in the Assembly on the Absolute Veto, 74 et seq. — his fame as an orator, 77 — his celebrated speech advocating the loan, 77 et seq. — compliment to him, from Molé, the actor, 79 — advocates martial law, 80 — his views respecting the clergy, 81 — president of the Assembly, 82 — his death, 83, 92 — his literary appropriations, 84 et seq., 92 et seq., 85 et seq. — his character as an author, 86, note, — character of his eloquence, 87, — his vernality, 88 — Dumont's opinion of his political influence and sagacity, 88 et seq. — of his political views, 93.

- Mofussil, Scenes in the, from the Asiatic Journal, 293 et seq. — meaning of the term, 294.
- Montesquieu, anecdote of, 212 et seq.
- Morier, Mr., his Zohrab, the Hostage, noticed, 150† et seq. — merits of his Hajji Baba, 150† et seq. — of his Zohrab, 151†, 154† — his description of Shah Aga Mohamed, 151† et seq.
- Mundy, Captain, his Journal of a Tour in India, noticed, 50†.
- Mussulmans of India, Observations on, noticed, 50† — Customs of the, noticed, 147† et seq. — the science of necromancy among them, 149† et seq.

N.

- National Resources, an Inquiry into the Extent and Stability of, by Dr. Chalmers, noticed, 106 — quoted, 106 et seq.
- Natural Magic, Letters on, by Sir David Brewster, noticed, 14† et seq.
- Necromancy, science of, among the Mussulmans, 149† et seq.
- Neff, Felix, A Memoir of, by William Stephen Gilly, noticed, 29†.
- Nemours, Dupont de, notice of, 90, note.
- New Gil Blas, by H. D. Inglis, noticed, 154†.
- New Testament, new edition of Weinstein's, noticed, 197† — Scholz's mentioned, 197† et seq. — other works relating to the, noticed, 198†.
- New Zealand, A Narrative of a Nine Months' Residence in, by Augustus Earle, reviewed, 17† et seq.
- Nicolas, the Czar, his character, 73† et seq. — his conduct towards the Poles, 74† et seq.

Notices of eminent individuals lately deceased, 75-†95†, 181†-192†.

Nugent, Lord, his Memorials of Hampden, reviewed, 1.

O.

O'Connell, Mr., his opinions on poor laws, 109.

O'Driscoll, John, Esq., the author of an article in the Eclectic Review, on Ireland 118, note.

Omeda, Raja, story of, 111† et seq.

Oracular school, remarks on the writers of the, 260 et seq.

Oriental Scenes, Sketches, and Tales, by Emma Roberts, notice of, 130† et seq. — extracts from, 131† et seq.

Oriental translation-fund, objects of the Society, 155† — works published by, 155† et seq. — medal awarded by, 169†.

P.

Paine, Thomas, notice of 90, note.

Papists, rebellion of the, in Ireland, 31.

Paris, M. Paulin, his letter to M. de Monmerqué upon the Romances of the Twelve Peers of France, translated by Professor Longfellow, 125 et seq.

Paris, state of, in 1789, 54 et seq.

Parliament, history of, 5, 10 et seq. — 23, 24, 27, 31, 41 — violent contests in, 13 — the Long Parliament, summoned, 27 — acts of, 28.

Pauperism, extent of, in England, in the reign of Elizabeth, 110.

Pellegrini, Giuseppe, his Oration to the people of Verona, 165 et seq.

Penguin, description of the, 29† et seq.

Penny Magazine, recommended, 13 et seq.

Philosophy, remarks on the German, 41† et seq. — Hegel's system of, 47† et seq. — Krause's system of, 49† et seq. — sketch of a system of speculative, noticed, 169†.

Poetry, of Mrs Hemans, 152 et seq. — of Sir John Malcolm, 160.

Poland, Monthly Reports on the Affairs of, noticed, 73† — wrongs and sufferings of, 74† et seq.

Political Economy, work on, by Thomas Chalmers, reviewed, 96 — Illustrations of, by Harriet Martineau, reviewed, 96.

Polonia, or Monthly Reports on Polish affairs, noticed, 73† — articles contained in the second number of, 75†.

Polhecle, Rev. R., Letters to him from Sir Walter Scott, 139† et seq., 143† et seq.

Porter, Miss Ann Maria, notice of, 93† et seq.

Puritans, persecutions and resolution of, 17.

Pym, impeached of high treason, 34.

Q.

Qanoon-e-Islam, by Jaffur Shurreef, noticed, 147† et seq.

R.

Rajast'han, Annals and Antiquities of, noticed, 97† et seq.

Rajpoots, the, character of, 108† et seq. — resemblance between their spirit and institutions and those of the feudal ages, 109†.

Raynouard, M., importance of his rules in examining ancient French MSS., 150 et seq.

Reformation, effects of the, in England, 6.

Remusat, Abel, notice of, 91† et seq.

Rivalto, Giordano da, the preaching of, 162 et seq.

Roberts, Emma, notice of her Oriental Scenes, Sketches, and Tales, 130† et seq. — extracts from her poems, 131† et seq.

Robespierre, anecdote of, 59.

Romance of Bertha of the great feet, remarks on, 129 — notice of various articles on, 177† — of a critical examination of, by Francesque Michel, 177† et seq. — old English metrical, of Flores and Blanche-fleurs, extract from 128, note — of the Rose, notice of 131, note — of Gears de Nevers, quoted, 137 et seq. — of Brutus of Brittany, notice of 139, note — of Roland and Roncevaux, mentioned, 139 et seq.

Romances of the Twelve Peers of France — a letter to M. de Monmerqué upon, by M. Paulin Paris, 125 et seq.

Romances of the Round Table, remarks on, 130.

Romilly, Sir Samuel, his intimacy with Dumont, 48 — with Mirabeau, 49 — notice of, by Dumont, 52, note.

Roscoc, Thomas, notice of his Spanish Novelists, 146† et seq.

Rousseau, Jean Jacques, remarks on his Confessions, 194 et seq. — Diderot's dislike to him, 210.

Rupert, Prince, his encounter with the parliamentary army, 43 et seq.

S.

St. John, Oliver, counsel for Hampden against the writ of ship-money.

- Saint-Simonianism*, remarks on, 169 †, 170 †.
- Sarrans*, his Lafayette and the Revolution of 1830, noticed, 192 †.
- Savonarola*, eloquence of, 163.
- Scotland*, rebellion in, 22 — the covenant put forth in, 22 — invaded by Charles, 23.
- Scots*, their invasion of England, 26.
- Scott*, Sir Walter, notice of, 75 † et seq. — character of his writings, 76 † et seq. — letters of, 139 † et seq. — his account of Sir Tristrem, 139 † et seq. — his remarks on fools, 143 † — his account of Northern Antiquities, 144 † — his remarks on the systems of Bell and Lancaster, 145 †.
- Sea-Elephant*, description of, 23 †.
- Sieyes*, Abbé, notice of, 60 — his opinion of the English government, 60 — his speech to the Assembly on the abolition of tithes, 74.
- Sir Tristrem*, by Thomas the Rhymer, Scott's account of, 140 † et seq.
- Sháh Náneh*, remarks on, 155 † — notice of, 155 † et seq. — history of the work, 157 † — extracts from, 158 † et seq.
- Shakspeare*, Chateaubriand's opinion of, 235 et seq.
- Ship-money*, writ of, issued by Charles the First, 20 — tried in the Chamber of Exchequer, 21.
- Shurreef*, Jaffur, his Customs of the Moosulmans of India, noticed, 147 † et seq.
- Skinner*, Captain Thomas, his Excursions in India, noticed, 7 † et seq.
- Southey*, parallel between him and Chateaubriand, 227.
- Spanish Novelists*, The, by Thomas Roscoe, noticed, 146 † et seq.
- States-General*, proceedings of the, 55.
- Strafford*, Earl of, his person and character, 18 et seq.
- Suetonius*, his character of Claudius, 9.
- Syaads*, account of the, 50 † et seq.
- T.
- Talleyrand*, M. de, notice of his character and history 90, note.
- Tassy*, M. de, his Memoir on the Musliman Religion in India, mentioned, 147 †.
- Tenterden*, Lord, biographical notice of, 186 † et seq.
- Theological works*, various, noticed, 198 † et seq.
- Thiele*, J. M., his book on Thorvaldsen and his works, reviewed, 1 †.
- Thieees*, number of annual executions of, in England, in the reign of Elizabeth, 110 — of Henry the Eighth, 110.
- Thomas*, of Ercildoune, account of his "Sir Tristrem," 139 † et seq. — extract from it, 143 †.
- Thorvaldsen*, Bertel (or Albert), account of him and his works, by J. M. Thiele, reviewed, 1 †.
- Tod*, Col. James, notice of his Annals and Antiquities of Rajast'han, 97 † et seq.
- Trelawney*, Mr., his Adventures of a Younger Son, noticed, 36 †.
- Tristan d'Acunha*, Journal of a Residence in, by Augustus Earle, noticed, 17 †.
- Troubadours*, sources whence they derived their inspiration, 129 et seq. — names and notices of several of the, 131 et seq.
- Turchi*, Adeodato, notice of, 167 — specimen of his eloquence cited, 167 et seq.
- Turpin*, Archbishop, remarks on and analysis of his Chronicle (of St. Denis), 141 et seq. — description of his death, quoted, from "Le Chanson de Roland," 143 et seq.
- Tuscany*, intellectual and religious progress in, 174.
- Typography*, improvement in the processes of, 64 † et seq.
- V.
- Venini*, Ignazio, Eulogies and Religious Discourses by, reviewed, 161.
- Village*, Miss Mitford's, remarks on, 192 †.
- Voland*, Mad'le, her connexion and correspondence with Diderot, 207 et seq.
- W.
- Wakesfield*, Priscilla, notice of, 93 † et seq.
- War*, the civil, in England, remarks on, 43.
- Wellesley*, Colonel, supersedes Baird in India, 137 † et seq.
- Welstein*, remarks on his New Testament, 197 †.
- Wilson*, Horace, his contributions to Indian history, 100 † — his oriental learning, 100 †, note.
- Z.
- Zeltor*, his correspondence and intimacy with Goethe, 290.
- Zohrab*, the Hostage, by Mr. Morier, noticed, 150 † et seq. — its excellencies, 151 †, 154 — extracts from, 151 † et seq.

